GREETINGS

This morning we extend the right hand of fellowship to Clifford Anglin and welcome him as a member of the fourth estate. Flying in the face of the ever-present warning breeze that brokens squally weather, the well known lawyer has decided that the pen is mightier than the tongue and has embarked on the newspaper publishing business. The pasture just over the fence rail always looks the greenest and the grass more lush than in the inclosure where we are feeding. That is human nature.

MANY HAVE IT

Some people, many of them in fact, have an itch to get into the parlor and perilous game of publication, animated by various and varied motives. Whether it is a desire for expression that cannot otherwise be given full play, or just a natural bent for work and pleasure in it, is often hard to discern. But we have known for a long time that our genial friend has had an unquenchable desire to be a journalist, and we also are well aware that nothing will kill that desire except actual experience. The career is not all beer and skittles, but for that matter, no business is. Each and every one has its share of grief and perhaps we are wasting our sympathy needlessly by letting our feelings get the best of us and commiserating instead of congratulating the latest addition to the ranks.

We are sincere when we wish Mr. Anglin an abundance of success, not particularly financial success, for that is seldom achieved in the newspaper game—but the success is synonymous with the feeling of accomplishment and having exercised what talent we possess in worthy and constructive causes.

A GOOD SHOWING

Not long ago we had an article relative to the administration of relief work in Sonoma county, where, it was disclosed the SERRA offices were filled with gay, young buds of families in good circumstances, who thought holding down

RAIN TODAY? MAYBE YES, NO

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Weather forecasters were non-committal tonight as to when a cessation of the present flurry of light showers could be expected, but they were tentatively betting on tonight.

The deluge which they had predicted for the week-end had, they admitted, gone away in some other direction, and appeared to have missed the Bay district. There was still a storm about 200 miles out in the Pacific, headed eastward, which would continue the damp spell throughout tonight. Whether its passing will mean the end of the present rain or the beginning of another they could not say with any certainty tonight.

Half Of Booze Sold Is Bootleg

WASHINGTON, April 13.—UP.—Liquor sources still supply 50 to 60 per cent of the country's liquor, Attorney General Cummings, director of the Division of Investigation, charged tonight.

He asserted the Federal government's campaign against bootlegging has failed and he demanded a reduction in the federal tax of $2 a gallon.

USE OF GAS AND MACHINE GUNS TO BE SHOWN DEPUTIES

MARTINEZ, April 13.—Sheriff John A. Miller announced today that Joe Kauch of San Francisco will give members of his staff instruction Monday afternoon in machine gun fire and use of gas bombs.

Miller also said officers soon will initiate pistol practice and will organize a pistol team.

DUST STORM HITS SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

NEVADA HIT BY RECORD HEAT WAVE

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—UP.—Arizona and Southern Nevada were like a furnace under a yellow-red cloud late today as temperatures soared into the 90's and added to the discomfort of a dust-laden air from a dust storm covering the Southwest.

The edge of the vast dust cloud, stretching from the Texas Panhandle across New Mexico and Arizona, reached Indio, Calif., in the Imperial Valley, and Las Vegas, Nev. There was small chance of it sweeping on to the ocean and causing suffering in the Los Angeles metropolitan area, however. The Weather Bureau said rain was expected in Southern California by midnight.

TEMPERATURE RISES
The temperature shot up 4 degrees in one hour at the Phoenix, Ariz., airport this afternoon to 92 degrees. Yuma reported 91 degrees. Throughout Arizona temperatures were far above seasonal marks.

Hardly a breath of air stirred to relieve the humid heat, and residents wiped grimy, perspiring faces with no letup expected in Arizona for another 24 hours.

VISIBILITY ZERO
Visibility, usually about 10 miles in the clear desert air at Yuma, was down to two miles late today and was decreasing. Western Air Express pilots landing at Las Vegas, reported flying through fine dust particles hanging in clouds.

A yellow haze was thickening at El Centro, obscuring the sun, and the air was growing heavy over the Imperial Valley. This was the farthest west the dust pall was expected to reach, for just over the mountains in Southern California low-hanging clouds blocked the way.

A rainstorm in the San Francisco bay district was driving south and was due south of the Tehachapi by dark. Light rain was reported in Santa Barbara this afternoon. Forecasters said the rain would melt away any dust clouds sweeping over the mountain passes into Southern California.

Services For Local Theater

Four noonday services will be held this week at the Fox theater by local Protestant churches in observance of Passion Week under the direction of the laymen's committee of the Ministerial Alliance. The services will be held from 12:15 to 1:15 on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Special musical programs will be held.

Among the speakers will be Rev. G. H. Derbyshire, pastor of the First Baptist church of Berkeley on Monday; Rev. Harvey H. Guy, of Alameda, a returned missionary to Japan, on Tuesday; Rev. Henry Shires of the Pacific School of Religion on Wednesday and others.

A layman will preside at each of the meetings and pastors of the local churches will participate in the services.

Car Damaged By Fire On Avenue

Fire caused by a short circuit did slight damage to a car owned by H. J. Hale of 505 Florida avenue last evening.

The car was parked at Eighth and Macdonald avenue when passersby saw the flames and summoned the fire department. Firemen were forced to take the car door off the hinges in order to extinguish the blaze.

DR. AND MRS. C. E. RUTLEDGE have as their guest Dr. Raleigh Davis of Yosemite Valley.

Violinist

MISS FRANCES BROCKMAN, University of Oregon student, will represent the Northwest in the national violin contest to be held April 22-26 in Philadelphia. She won first-place honors in the preliminary contest held recently in Seattle.

Hot Show Is Raided Here By Deputies

Deputy Sheriff Al Davies, Ted Crist and Special Deputy Barton Carlson late Friday night raided a "hot show" being staged at a stag party in La Honda Bowl, seized a motion picture projecting machine, jettisoned a group of license plate numbers which will have numerous inquiries met, and were in attendance something to explain to their wives, and saved three young professional dancers from a revolting experience.

Five hundred were in attendance at the "party" and of this number, at least 200 were drunk, the deputies said. The three young women, whose names were withheld by officials, were staying a dance when Davies and his men broke up the party.

BOTTLES HURLED
In the ensuing melee bottles were hurled and Davies suffered a slight bruise on his head when hit by one of the assorted pieces of glassware that were hurtling.

Road Suffers "Sinking Spell"

The moving mountain road in Pismo Valley has gone so far down in the earth in the direction of China that the hope of ever using it again has been abandoned by Supervisor James N. Long and the place where the road once was, but isn't any more, has been blocked off from travel.

For the past week a pile driver has been at work in an attempt to see if there is any bottom to the spot. A steel pile has been sunk 34 feet, or six feet below the level of the adjoining creek bed and apparently a hard strata has been struck. How thick this strata is will soon be determined. Perhaps it will be found that beneath it is a bottomless pit, but it is hoped that the problem has been solved.

In the past 54 years the road at the movable spot has been rebuilt and changed four times, but by some strange fatality the sinkings spells have continued.

99-YEAR SENTENCE

GREENVILLE, Tex., April 13.—Clinton Palmer, 25-year-old former Utah sheepherder, today was convicted and assessed a 99-year prison term for the slaying of Dillard Garrett in Hopkins county in 1924.

MOVE MADE BY NATIONS TO END WAR

STREBA, IOWA, April 13.—UP.—Britain, France and Italy agreed today to preserve peace in Europe. The decision to adopt a common policy, or "united front" against war and the scrapping of treaties, was regarded as an outstanding achievement by the three powers, conference in session here.

WAR THREATENED
The threat of war still existed and enduring peace was by no means assured, but the statement of the three countries left them in a position to take a first step towards security.

The Italian delegation, held off the conference, issued a communique announcing a formal agreement, adding the three powers to cooperate against war would be signed tomorrow.

FRENCH IN ACQUARD
The French announced a complete accord had been reached on every point which it was possible to discuss.

The conference began Thursday in a spirit of pessimism, with the British among the spokesmen, declaring it would be no more fruitful than the many other conferences held in recent years. It neared its end tonight on a note of jubilation.

IN AGREEMENT
It was manifest that the three powers, dominant in Europe, were in thorough agreement that war would be signed tomorrow.

Richmond Woman In Suicide Try

Mrs. B. Aquistapace, 52, of 30 Macdonald avenue, is recovering at her home after she allegedly swallowed a bottle of poison in what police say was a suicide attempt.

Her husband, who witnessed the act, attempted to snatch the bottle from her hand, but failed. She drank the liquid and collapsed on the bathroom floor of her home. Her husband called Dr. J. W. Bumgarner, who pumped the poison from the woman's stomach.

According to Aquistapace, he and his two grown sons and wife had eaten breakfast very late yesterday morning and when his two sons left the house, his wife went into the bathroom and took the poison.

It was said that the woman, although in good spirits generally, was painfully injured in an automobile accident several months ago and occasionally complained of hurts suffered in the crash.

Constables To Ask For Arms

MARTINEZ, April 13.—Request that the county provide funds to arm and equip an officers' group to be provided through constables appointing deputies will be laid before the supervisors Monday by Constable B. B. Rogers of Martinez, president of the recently formed Contra Costa Peace Officers' Association.

The association is composed of constables and chiefs of police who propose to appoint deputies to provide a force to serve during emergencies.

There were unconfirmed reports that a protest may be presented by labor groups.

CONDONING RELIEF PLAN
WASHINGTON, April 13.—Senator McCarran (D., Nev.) said today he understood the "old CWA plan" was going to be followed in the government's $4,000,000,000 work drive. The CWA was the greatest fiasco there ever was. They might just as well slush out money," he said.

U.S.-JAP TRADE WAR NEAR BEAR CREW BEATEN BY WASHINGTON

OAKLAND, April 13.—UP.—The U.S. boat crew beat the Oakland crew today in the University of Washington crew, based out the University of California here today by two thirds in a race to win the trophy race.

The boat crew placed the Huskies at the top of the 1935 racing pack in early season and perhaps headed them toward further honors at New York and the Berlin Olympics of 1936.

6,000 PRESENT
The Washington time for the 3 miles was 16 minutes 12 seconds while the U.S. crew made the distance in 16:12 2/3 seconds.

Approximately 6,000 persons braved rain squalls and a stiff wind to watch the classic.

California rowers at Fruitvale bridge, where the finish line is located had a premature celebration when loud speakers and some news agencies announced the Bears the winners. The judges, however, gave Washington the nod by about six feet and the United Press, standing by the judges, secured the official version.

NARROW VICTORY
So much pandemonium developed however, that it was impossible to secure the official time for about an hour after the athletes had reached the boat houses for their shower baths.

The varsity's narrow victory gave the Washington crew men a clean sweep for the day.

The Washington Fresh frisked down the bridge a cool three lengths ahead of the Bear Cubs for their sixth win. The Washington boys crew, including some members of the varsity of last year, disposed fighting sophomores, took the California Junior varsity over the three miles to win by six lengths in 17 minutes 13 1/2 seconds.

STATE TO GET SUM FROM SERRA

WASHINGTON, April 13.—UP.—Police Administrator Harry L. Hopkins today started spending the $880,000,000 appropriated for direct relief in the $48,000,000 unemployment bill.

He announced allocation of $113,651,381 to states for April relief. The money will be used for general and drought relief, cattle, transient, emergency education and student aid programs.

April allocations were $19,274,812 below the $132,936,226 distributed for March.

Hopkins withheld funds from Georgia because the State has not contributed any of its own money for relief. He advanced funds to Pennsylvania only for the first half of the month, insisting the State put up $5,000,000 a month before more money is allocated.

The State allocations for April included: Arizona, $557,119; California, $1,000,000; Colorado, $1,000,000; Idaho, $1,000,000; Montana, $1,000,000; Nevada, $1,000,000; New Mexico, $1,000,000; Oklahoma, $1,000,000; Oregon, $1,000,000; Utah, $1,000,000; Washington, $1,000,000; Wyoming, $1,000,000.

GRAIN PRICES SOAR

CHICAGO, April 13.—Broad speculation buying, more pronounced than at any time in recent weeks, swept grain prices sharply higher today, with all future deliveries selling above $1 per bushel. After the first hour of trading in wheat prices had advanced 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents above yesterday's close, they may only fractionally below $1.02.

Unknown Man Hurt In Crash

An unidentified man was taken to the Randolph hospital in Albany early this Sunday morning, suffering from a possible fractured skull, cuts and bruises and possible internal injuries.

The man was allegedly struck down by a machine driven by Mrs. Frances E. Christ of 85 Park Way, El Cerrito, at San Diego and San Pablo avenues, as he was crossing the street.

Mrs. Christ told police who investigated that she did not see the man until after the accident. The injured man was removed to the Albany hospital for treatment. At an early hour this morning he was still unconscious. No marks of identification were found on his clothing.

Strike Pickets Board Ship Here

A delegation of striking firemen boarded a vessel at the Ferry Building terminal early this morning in an effort to persuade firemen on board the vessel to leave their posts and join in the strike.

Apparently rebuffed, the delegation left the ship just as local police arrived.

Richmond Man Hurt In Crash

E. C. Bontelle, of 226 West Richmond avenue, is reported recovering from a broken leg sustained recently when his car in which he was driving turned over on slippery pavement as he attempted to avoid a head-on collision in Oakland.

Bontelle is under the care of Dr. C. S. Abbott.

MISS GRACE MALETT of the school teaching staff will spend the Easter holiday at Los Angeles.

WARNING IS SOUNDED BY JAP PAPERS

TOKYO, April 14, (Sunday).—Published threats of an impending trade war with the United States over lucrative Latin American commerce echoed through Japan today, labeling American operations in Southern American markets as subversive to President Roosevelt's "good neighbor" trade policies.

The warnings were carried in Sunday editions of Tokyo newspapers and were represented as the direct opinions of the Japanese foreign office. The identical stories were captioned: "Following are the views of the foreign office."

IS APPROVED
The United Press learned that although the foreign office had not officially sanctioned the articles as a statement or interview, their use as labeled bore official approval.

The stories, enclosed entirely in quotations, charged certain United States businessmen were agitating "ferociously for exclusion of Japanese goods from Latin American countries, especially those where the so-called Caribbean policy is applied." The opposition, it was said, developed from groundless fears of severe losses to Japanese competition.

RESTRICT TRADE

Potential losses to American industry through reduction in Japanese purchasing power of United States cotton and subsequent lowering of other United States exports to Japan were emphasized as probable developments of a restricted Japanese export trade.

The articles also argued that Japanese goods, "because of quality and price, are fast becoming necessities of every day life."

The newspaper represented the foreign office as unable to understand the reason for South American.

THREE INJURED IN CAR CRASH

Three persons were injured here yesterday in automobile accident, which police say were more or less due to slippery streets.

J. J. Reese, of 312 Central avenue, El Cerrito, and James McLaughlin, of 427 Macdonald avenue, sustained injuries when their cars collided at Sixth and Chausser.

Reese suffered a fractured wrist, possible fractured ribs and internal injuries. He is at the Cottage hospital for treatment. McLaughlin suffered cuts, bruises and other injuries.

The injured were taken to the hospital in a Wilson and Kretzer ambulance.

In the second accident, Mrs. Mary E. Freeman, of Richmond, sustained cuts and bruises when her car was struck by a machine driven by A. W. Reynolds, of Oakland at San Pablo and Bayview avenues. Mrs. Freeman was taken to the hospital in the Ryan ambulance. Reynolds was not injured.

All four cars involved in the accident were badly wrecked.

The injured were given treatment by Dr. L. A. Hodges.

Dr. Spalding Is Named Examiner For Boxing Bout

Chief Boxing Inspector Don Shields of the California State Athletic Commission, has ruled that all private clubs and organizations where boxing and wrestling matches form any part of their programs, must have a physician's examination before each contestant enters the ring. In addition, a physician must be in attendance during such exhibition, prepared to render proper aid in the event of any injury or incapacity.

This new and precautionary ruling is the result of several deaths having occurred in recent years, where it was shown that no physician was immediately available. The courts have assessed heavy damages in each case.

John J. Jerome, owner and general manager of the El Cerrito dog track, said: "I was surprised at the number of aspirants for the position of medical examiner when the edict of the California Athletic Commission became known. I didn't realize there were so many doctors in the Eastbay."

"Dr. J. B. Spalding of Richmond because of his connection with the State Commission, and of the Oakland Boxing Club was selected as examiner for the El Cerrito track owing to his familiarity with the services required."

CALIFORNIANS BEAT EASTERN TRACK SQUAD

BERKELEY, April 13.—UP—The University of California's Golden Bear track team today answered the challenge of the Midwest by defeating Michigan University, champions of the "Big Ten" by a decisive 76½ to 54½ score in their dual meet here.

The California team, the greatest to represent the Bears in years, took eight first places and followed through with seconds and thirds in many events to move out in front from the opening events.

NEGRO STARS
While Ward, sensational Michigan Negro star, lived up to all his advance notices by scoring a total of 17 points in four events to easily capture individual honors of the meet.

In the hurdles, Ward raced to victory by inches over Tom Moore of California, previously undefeated in the event, to win in 11.8 seconds. Ward's time, made in the face of a damp wind on a soggy track, was one of the best of the meet.

WINS RACE
Ward, trailing by a yard as he came over the final hurdle, closed with a rush to overtake Moore, who had led the entire distance.

In the 100-yard dash, Ward ran on even terms with George Anderson and Morris Pollock of California until the final 25 yards, when Anderson put on a closing drive that left Ward a yard astounded, with Pollock inches behind in third place. Time was 9.8 seconds, also remarkable in consideration of track conditions.

BRILLIANT PERFORMANCE
The brilliant Negro followed his performances in the 100 and 100-yard dash with a 23 foot 11 1/4 inch leap to first place in the broad jump, and tied for first with his teammate, Moiso, in the high jump at 6 feet even.

Dick Brace, slim California half-miler, gave the $5000 prize in the 1000 yards Staidium their biggest thrill of the afternoon in the $800 yard dash, finishing with a tremendous spurt to tie for first with Davidson, Michigan, in the last time of 1:55.

Boxed and allowed into third place on the stretch, a full three yards behind Davidson, but pulled up into the tie as the Michigan runner faltered in the last few strides.

Nere Alix, Michigan two-miler, favored to win his event, caught a spike in the wooden rail of the track on the final lap of the eight lap race, stumbled and sprained his ankle and was carried from the track. Physicians at the track reported he will be out for the season.

Not until well into June, when the strong clubs have asserted themselves and the weaker ones have fallen back into the ranks, will the owners and managers of the latter group admit a weakness. That such division will come, even before June, is almost certain, for in both leagues—the National and the American—the class is pretty well defined.

In the National it looks like a two club battle between the defending champions, the St. Louis Cardinals, and the New York Giants with the Chicago Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates punching it out for third place. The battle between the Cardinals and Giants should be a natural, with the outcome in doubt until the end.

The American promises the most wide-open race in years with three teams having almost equal chances to win. Detroit, 1934 champion, is a slight favorite, but New York and Cleveland are expected to breathe down the Tigers' necks all the way.

The Last Lap

University of Southern California the University of California 80 5-6 to 65 1-6 in their annual meet. Here is one of the principal reasons—The Trojans making a clean sweep in the quarter-mile run. Coming from behind these three Trojans, Al Fitch, Jim Cassin and Johnny McCarty, the winner, gave the Southern California team much-needed points.

Trojans Defeat Fresno Staters In Field Events

STATE COLLEGE STADIUM, April 13.—UP—Irresistible the University of Southern California track team continued on its way to its seven national championship when it overwhelmed the Fresno State College by a score of 93 2-3 to 37 1-3.

The Trojans took 12 first places, passed their efforts last week and tied for another out of the when they defeated the University events with marks that far surpassed California.

CARDINALS IN VICTORY OVER UCLA IN MEET

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—UP—It took a cool, cloudy day to do the trick, but Coach Dink Templeton's Stanford University track team won a dramatic battle with California at Los Angeles by a score of 82 to 49 here today.

All season long the Indians have been fighting bad weather. They lost an indoor meet to the liking they proceeded to run away they found the weather to their Chief Boxing Inspector Don Williams' encounter.

The relay team, composed of Paul Green, Al Cranston, Brower Dellinger and Al Blackman, supplied a fitting climax to the victory by winning the four-man mile relay by 30 yards in the fast time of 3:15 seconds, the best time turned in this country since a former Stanford team set a world record of 3:12.6, back in 1931.

MAJOR LOOPS OPEN SEASON ON APRIL 16

NEW YORK, April 13.—UP—In baseball that simple pastime known Doubleday fashioned in his own backyard back in 1839, opens its 98th year on Tuesday, and roughly 200,000 spectators will watch the 16 major league teams move into action for 1935.

Old Abner wouldn't know his brain-child as it is played today. In his time it was formal and amateur. Today it's a highly geared business, involving thousands of men and more thousands of dollars.

The teams, which will start the 154 game drive toward October and the glory and gold that is the world series, are fresh from the south and coast where, for months, they have conditioned under the sun.

Some things about the modern game would strike Abner as familiar. Since baseball's inception optimism has been one of its most distinguishing traits. This trait hasn't faded. Tonight, a poll of the major league managers would bring the same answer:

"We're stronger than last year, and with a few breaks will be up there around the top. If so-and-so comes through, and so-and-so does not get injured, we'll give them

CLIPPER SHIP MAY HOP FOR CHINA TUESDAY

ALAMEDA AIRPORT, Alameda, April 13.—Final preparations were being made tonight for the sky-way blazing flight of the Pan-American Clipper Ship on its hop to inaugurate trans-Pacific air service.

The take-off of the giant Sikorsky is tentatively scheduled for Tuesday, April 15, but weather conditions remained an important factor in the inaugural flight. Present indications are that the take-off may be deferred a few days, due to inclement weather.

Word was received here yesterday that the steamer North Haven, which sailed in advance to establish landing bases, had arrived at the Little Island of Midway, 1150 miles northwest of Honolulu.

The North Haven will remain at Midway for two weeks and then depart for Wake Island. The route of the ship calls for stops at these two islands, after a halt at Honolulu. From Wake Island the steamer will leave for Manila, third port of call on the clipper ship's route. From Manila the route circles over to Canton, present end of the voyage.

A radio station will be erected at each of the points, equipped with a powerful "DF" radio beam to guide the giant ship on its flight. A station is already in operation at Mokapu Point, Honolulu, and in initial tests contact was easily established with the station at the airport here.

The inaugural flight of the clipper ship calls for a 2400-mile trip to the Hawaiian Islands and return. Meanwhile, the resources of the Pan-American organization were at work laying out the ultimate route of the line from California to China.

Nash Cruising Gear Aids Economy

How the Nash Automatic Cruising Gear reduces gasoline and oil consumption is being graphically demonstrated to motorists by means of a tachometer mounted on the steering post of Nash demonstrators. When the Cruising Gear goes into operation at speeds between 40 and 45 miles per hour, the tachometer registers a reduction of approximately 30% in engine revolutions although car speed remains unchanged. Averages as high as 18 to 22 miles to the gallon at high speeds have been reported by Nash owners driving cars equipped with this device.

Ingenious Device Big Economy Driving Factor

A tachometer, mounted on the steering post of demonstrators, is being successfully used by Nash dealers to show the advantages of the Nash automatic cruising gear in actual operation. For the benefit of the uninformed, the tachometer is the ingenious device that registers engine revolutions per minute and it has long been used in aviation and marine work as a check on motor efficiency. In the case of the Nash cruising gear, however, the instrument proves in graphic fashion that the motor actually "floats" at car speeds above 40 miles per hour, and since operating costs increase considerably with car speeds under ordinary conditions, the value of the cruising gear lies in the marked reduction of gasoline and oil consumption.

"At the same time the management of the Hope mill at Sebastopol, R. L. employing 410, announced it would close April 19.

Textile Mills Of New England Close

BOSTON, April 13.—The closing of three New England textile mills employing 2,810 workers was announced today while governors and congressional representatives at Washington appealed to the President for relief for the industry in this section.

The Greylock mills in North Adams and the Berkshire mills at Adams today announced they would close next week. The mills employ 2,400 workers. Both mills, the management said, had been idle during the week.

At the same time the management of the Hope mill at Sebastopol, R. L. employing 410, announced it would close April 19.

When the Cruising Gear goes into operation at speeds between 40 and 45 miles per hour, the tachometer registers a reduction of approximately 30% in engine revolutions although car speed remains unchanged. Averages as high as 18 to 22 miles to the gallon at high speeds have been reported by Nash owners driving cars equipped with this device.

"The Nash automatic cruising gear is a self-contained unit operating as a part of the transmission and can be used or not according to the wishes of the driver, who controls it by means of a selector knob on the steering post. When the driver shifts the selector knob to the "cruising" position, the gear goes into operation and the engine speed is automatically reduced to about 1,800 revolutions per minute.

"While it is difficult to make definite statements regarding the economy of the Nash cruising gear, it is well established as a contributory cause of nervous tension and fatigue, and it is interesting to note that both driver and passenger can make a long trip in a car equipped with the Automatic Cruising Gear, maintain better average speed, yet and the day comparatively as fresh as at the start.

Mulhalls Separate; Divorce Planned

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—A separation, attributed to incompatibility, was disclosed today by Jack Mulhall, seven star of the silent days, and his wife, Mrs. Evelyn Mulhall, actress, after 13 years of married life.

They still are maintaining their quarters in the same home in Beverly Hills but said they are "separated" and seeking separate residences.

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD, April 13.—CP.—Henry Hull wishes someone would write a play about Moses.

Keep your hands and your nose out of the business of the dramatic stars, declares Hull, one of America's leading stage stars.

"Moses, greatest of Biblical figures, was a man, a man of courage. He possessed political acumen of the highest degree. He was a scholar who knew more about history than most people do today. All this was in addition to his great religious fervor.

"If someone does not hurry and write a play about Moses, I will write one myself," Hull enthusiastically exclaimed. "Imagine, a man 80 years old, according to Biblical accounts, leading his people for 40 years through desolate country to a Promised Land.

"Thinking of the dissonance he encountered, the problems he faced, the solutions he evolved. It's one of the most powerful themes available to any playwright."

Hull's interest in Moses is based on a study of religious which he carried on while acting in motion pictures and upon the New York stage. Religion and psychology are his hobbies which date back to his undergraduate days at Columbia University where he studied under some of America's leading authorities in these fields. He is interested in psychology from the standpoint of the power of suggestion which he finds closely related to religion and superstition. With no idea of impressing anyone with his knowledge of psychology, he cites authorities, cases and anecdotes when talking.

The tall, lean actor came to Hollywood for picture engagements after playing the part he created of Jetter Lester in "Tobacco Road" for 30 weeks in New York, probably one of his most successful roles in 24 years on the stage.

Hull says he is no romantic juvenile and wants to take parts that require character. He says he is more than 40 years old and does not want to play lovesick youngster roles.

MIRABILI DICTU!

THEY SAY IT'S WET

To the office Saturday morning, seething through with rain, and on the way everybody making the same remarks that they have made about every rain spell for years and years. I wonder if it is peculiar to America, or if in Zanzibar, they ask, "Is it not enough for you?" and if in the frozen north the frosty Eskimau mumbles its equivalent as to the cold.

TAX IRREGULARITIES ARE ALL IRONED OUT

Forgetting the rain we had an interesting conference with M. F. Ralston, who knows all about real estate values in these parts. The conference, if you must know, was in regard to what took place at the city hall Friday afternoon when the realtors met with City Clerk Prosser to adjust the assessed valuation of the property along San Pablo avenue. And, according to Mr. Ralston, they adjusted all the more glaring inconsistencies in the valuation of properties in the line of the avenue, from County Line on the south to the north line of the city.

In the case of a considerable portion of the property in the 300 and 400 blocks, which includes the southern business district of El Cerrito the valuation was raised, and the same was done on certain pieces of property scattered throughout the city.

Elsewhere along the line, On the Willis Finck, of Richmond, Many properties between Lincoln and my previous parcels disclosed gifts. Moreover, the rate was low for the honor when they were red, as it was an other prop opened after the bridge playing.

MISS COSTELLO PREPARES FOR DIVORCE SUIT

HOLLYWOOD, April 13.—UP.—Dolores Costello was settled tonight with her two children in a newly leased home tonight; her marriage to John Barrymore apparently having been dissolved.

The former Broadway actress declined to discuss her move from the hill-top mansion she occupied with the stage find star for seven years, but her action seemed to clinch the report of their final estrangement.

Barrymore, in New York, where he has been for months, remained silent on her move and after declined to discuss rumors that she left their home because he asked her to do so.

Of all the local relatives, attorneys, friends and agents of the actor, only Dolores Costello, sister of Barrymore, could talk and her sister was speaking less than truthfully.

"I don't think Dolores knows what she will do," Helen said. "Whatever it is she will remain dignified."

Tried to act, Dolores risked the children, Dolores Ethel Mae, 9, and John Barrymore, 11, into the care of her house and moved to a brick walled Wilshire residence she leased for a year.

DAN NOZIGLIA local insurance man yesterday filed his nominating petition as a candidate at the coming city primary election on April 29.

Prizes were awarded for high scores to Mrs. A. J. Myher and Mrs. Gilbert.

Mrs. Finck will act as hostess to the members of the club at its next meeting.

RACKETEER IS SHOT BY GANG

CHICAGO, April 13—UP—Sanford (Gimp) Rosenbaum, 34, former bodyguard for Edward (Spike) O'Donnell, was shot three times today in a daring gangland attack in the heart of the Loop.

Rosenbaum, who stubbornly refused to name his lone assailant, was taken to Cook county hospital with wounds in the mouth, left shoulder and right arm. Physicians said he would live.

O'Donnell, a "reformed" gangster of Chicago's lurid gang-war days, was seized for questioning recently in connection with the machine-gunning slaying of Thomas E. Maloy, czar of the Motion Picture Operators' Union.

Mary Dean is trapped by her Uncle Nathan's eccentric will, which divides his fortune between her and her younger brother and sister, Jerry and Ann, only on condition that she marries Jarred Marsh, a young man from South America whom she has never seen until he arrives for the reading of the will. They agree to marry for the sake of Jerry and Ann. But Don Harvey, newspaper reporter, who is in love with Mary, is determined to stop the marriage. He steals the will! and is seized by the police, but meanwhile, he has got rid of the document by planting it on Mary, so he is released. Carmie De Loss, secretary in the Dean house, seems strangely anxious to get the will back. She uses her wiles on Don. When Mary sees them lurching together, she snubs Don.

Tito Schipa Is Next Ford Guest

TITO SCHIPA, considered by many to be the world's greatest lyric tenor, will be guest artist with the Ford Symphony Orchestra and Chorus, under Victor Kolar, in the Ford Sunday Evening Hour broadcast of April 14. The program is heard from 9 to 10 o'clock, Eastern Standard time, over a coast-to-coast network of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Schipa was born in Lecce, Italy, of poor but intensely religious parents. His early training was for monastic order, but the Bishop of his church, hearing him sing as a mere boy, advised him that a voice such as his would bring more comfort to people in the great world than anything he could do in the seclusion of a monastery. The Bishop himself arranged for Schipa to study under a great Italian teacher, and his operatic debut was made when he was still in his teens. Since then, according to critics, no one has come so close to carrying on the work of the great Caruso. His fame has spread to every continent, and his name and voice are known to music lovers in every part of the world.

Topic Today At Science Church

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, April 14, on the subject "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

The Golden Text will be: "I have mercy, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for thou art my praise" (Jeremiah 17:14). Bible selections will include the following passage from I Corinthians 15: 55-57, "O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "The relinquishment of all faith in death and also the fear of its sting would raise the standard of health and morals far beyond its present elevation, and would enable us to hold the banner of Christianity aloft with unflinching faith in God, in Life eternal. Sin brought death, and death will disappear with the disappearance of sin" (p. 426).

W. C. T. U. NOTES

YOUTH AND REPEAL

By Mrs. Carl W. Longacre

We have heard of a war that was fought to make the world safe for democracy. We also remember something of a constitutional amendment repeal campaign that was waged to make the country safe for youth. It turned out that the war to make the world safe for democracy made democracy unsafe for the world, and the repeal that was to make the country safe for youth seems to be making youth unsafe for the country. In short, in those states which now permit legal sale of liquor, youth is exercising its right to make a fool of itself in a big way.

Under Prohibition youth made a fool of itself only in a small way. There were no licensed dealers there to act as a proper background for youth. Youth had to do its fling more or less on the sly. But since the good folks of the nation have seen fit to license the saloon under another name, youth has some where it may get drunk in peace and comfort, and according to report youth is taking advantage of its opportunity. Honest, tax-paying liquor dealers are selling youth bad liquor at high prices and dividing the proceeds of such sales with nation, state and community.

All licensed liquor dealers are honest, moral citizens. Of course, many of them are former bootleggers and done sellers or worse, but they are honest now. Repeal destroyed all the dishonesty in connection with the liquor business. You can take the word of our own, what's his name? We hear it so seldom since repeal we've forgotten it, but anyway you can take his word for it. Repeal took all the hypocrisy out of the liquor business and all the dishonesty out of crooks—Upton G. Wilson, in The Reidsville (N.C.) Review.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

By C. N. CHRISMAN, M.D.

Grandma's "Spring Bitters" Were Merely the Forerunners of Our Modern Tonic Medicines

FOR all practical purposes tonics may be classified as gastric, or blood, or general. These terms merely indicate the region where the tonic is designed to do its work and the point from which its regulating effects are exerted. Literally, a tonic is something that excites a function and a condition of being tonic is one in which the functions are stimulated.

All natural processes are rhythmic, a continuous stretching and contracting of tissues in unison with the heart beat. The extent to which we lose this natural elasticity or capacity of stretching indicates our need for something to stimulate the contracted tissues.

The prevailing notion that all tonics should be bitter must have been born when Grandmother prepared her "spring bitters" to purify the blood. It is probably made by extracting the plants which grew wild. They were uncultivated and unrefined, and they were full of Nature's own virtues.

The worst they tasted the more sure we were that they could do us good. Let's see what this bitter, acrid tasting stuff can do for us. First, a stir up the salivary glands and later the gastric tract in the stomach. This affords a sense of hunger and stimulates appetites.

WHEN food is taken, the saliva of the mouth and the ferment of the stomach are ready to start the process of digestion. A better appetite gives a better proportion of foods for the digestive processes to work on. If, with our general sense of debility, we have a real dyspepsia, there is likely to be a catarrhal condition in the stomach.

The bitter tonic produces an irritation which increases the circulation and aids the stomach walls to get rid of the mucus that hinders them in taking care of the food we eat. This means that there will be a fresh and increased supply of arterial blood to the stomach.

The usual digestive tonic contains pepsin and hydrochloric acid. These are the most efficient digestive agents, and if our run-down condition is centered there, the stomach is probably lacking these agents and must have them restored. Such tonics are taken sometimes before and sometimes after meals, depending upon whether the gastric juices are above or below normal.

If it is a bad taste in the mouth or the belching up of acid gas that makes life miserable, the bitter tonic will be of service, and counteracts until the blood stream does the rest. Perhaps the chief of all our tonic medicines is quinine—the bitterest of the bitter. Its regenerative effects are found in the blood stream where it corrects malarial poisons or puts a check on skin troubles or stops your hair falling out.

WHERE there are genuine blood deficiencies, our best hope is in iron, which is an important component of the red blood corpuscles. Most cases in which a tonic is indicated are associated with contributing conditions which must be corrected. These conditions may be malarial or nervous, cardiac, or pulmonary.

These cases call for the general tonics which aid by increasing or modifying assimilation throughout the tissues. Styrchene is added to digestive tonics when the lungs or bronchial tubes are involved. It relieves the difficult breathing.

If the trouble is cardiac, styrchene helps to step up the general circulation. The authorities agree that as a tonic no substance is more helpful when used properly or more harmful when abused than alcohol. It is almost completely consumed in the body. It affords heat and energy. It causes the gastric membrane into more copious yield of its juices.

For those of us who have weak stomachs and "often infirmities," it is a real benefit, but beware if excessive use. It can numb and bewilder the senses and destroy the tissues. Take cod liver oil instead.

Guide to Charm LAX METHODS OF EATING MAY BE ACNE CAUSE

By JACQUELINE HUNT

THE dermatologist when prescribing for a case of acne considers the diet and lots of sunshine the first essentials. By diet he doesn't mean just cutting out certain foods, but putting the right things into the diet. With girls especially skin troubles are apt to arise because they are under-nourished.

The unfortunate fact for people of slim figures has caused girls to eat out of their heads and put on their growing bodies more than most. Consequently not enough vitamins and mineral salts and roughage lead to a generally sluggish and run down condition in the digestive system, and for such ailments as acne.

Sunshine is also a good doctor, so if you have even a mild case plan to get a good sun tan this summer. Now that the weather is becoming warmer, start the tanning process gradually so you will not get a real sunburn.

By the time summer is really here your skin will be sufficiently toughened so that you can stand an indoor flame amount without getting a painful burn. Local measures must be consistent. Try to keep the skin free from blackheads that might become infected and develop into acne. Never pick at pimples or put your hands about your face—and never use soiled powder puffs or wash clothes that might spread the infection.

When you apply powder, use pieces of cotton that you can throw away after each using. And have a fresh wash cloth and towel each day or if you use a brush for cleansing, be sure to sterilize it after each using. Such faithful and tireless care of the skin combined with proper diet and sufficient fresh air will gradually clear up even the most stubborn case of acne.

Care resulting from acne is another source of unhappiness for young boys and girls. You mustn't worry about them too much. They will gradually disappear. After your case of acne has been cleared up, massage of the skin with a good cream and the use of a skin tonic or pure cold water will hasten the improvement of the skin.

But remember—no skipping a cleansing because you come home late from a party and no weakening when your friends invite you to have a banana split or caramel sundae. A little self-denial is absolutely necessary if you want a clear, lovely skin, but it is worth it. This applies to boys as much as to girls.

Glamorous Eyes

If you want additional tips on eye make-up, and new aids to eye beauty send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for ten copies of the leaflet, "Glamorous Eyes."

Eliminating the Towel

In washing silver and glasses, if clear, sudsy water is used, and if they are dried as soon as they come out of this bath, you may dispense with rinsing. The water should be hot and the towel dry. And the result will be brighter silverware and sparkling glasses.

W. S. Van Dyke Proves That Film Director's Life Is Colorful as the Stars'

THE average citizen, in thinking about a motion picture, considers mostly the actors and perhaps the story. The various other "behind the scenes" credited with adaptation, camera work, or direction generally receive small notice from the fan. However, in this group of artisans the directors when on the set are more important than most of the stars. They really should be better known, for their careers are highly colorful.

There is W. S. Van Dyke, for instance, last year he directed "The Thin Man," which was considered by many the best picture of the year. At any rate it was a vastly sophisticated yarn directed with many sly winks. Ten years ago he was a young man connected with the film business would have had a nickname that Van Dyke could ever have directed such a picture. He was connected almost fatally with such "low-down" productions as "White Shadows in the South Seas," "Trader Horn," and "Esquimo."

No one knows how Van Dyke developed his first high comedy and striking drama. He must have had it all the time but he never got much chance to display this side of his makeup until after he finished "Tarzan, the Ape Man." The tongue-in-cheek attitude adopted by Van Dyke in this picture may have tipped off the production chiefs, for it wasn't long before he got the opportunity to direct "Penthouse" and "The Prizefighter and the Lady," certainly a far cry from "Trader Horn."

Now he has stepped blithely into another field, doing the editorial work in "Naughty Marietta," a picturization of Victor Herbert's famous operetta. And Van Dyke says it was lots of fun. The son of a California Superior Court Judge and an actress, he is a cousin of Henry Van Dyke, former American ambassador to The Hague. He weighs barely 160 pounds despite his six-foot height, much resembling the thin man which brought him fame. He started his stage career when six months old in San Francisco. Later in life he was a miner, a lumberjack and a reporter. He broke into pictures in 1915, when he was an assistant director to D. W. Griffith, in making "Intolerance." Then he became a full fledged director for Essanay and the big career was on.

Flowers Become Chief Decorative Motif, Even Used for Taffeta Evening Dresses

ALLYING FABRIC AND ELASTIC

By IRENE VAIL

New York Fashion seems in a flowery mood. In usual silks are strewn with flowers and dresses are trimmed with them. Yes, and even hats—and that is news. It's years and years since flowers have gone to our heads. Old-fashioned nois-mays are new-fashioned again. Knots and light borders of field flowers have been revived. White pique flowers in hand effects trim dresses for street wear, if you please, and almost anything seems likely to happen if this fad for flowers continues.

Among things that are happening is flowered taffeta evening dresses with great pointed collar motif, and they have a distinctly new and exciting look. And speaking of excitement, did you know that shops were offering taffeta silk petticoats again, and ruffled ones, at that? We've been telling you that taffeta was the approved foundation for all sorts of frocks but you mightn't have known about the taffeta petticoat.

Taffeta traditionally belongs in a lingerie season, and we can consider this one. The embroidered, and lace-trimmed lingerie blouse is back, so are cobweb lace dresses.

Sketched today, the side laced frock at the left, is of a firmly woven brocade satin laced with a separate long line lace bralette with lusterous guilots holding it snugly over the corset.

The long, simple in the center shows an interesting technique in combining stitched satin and French cloth—one at the right is of brocade satin and French webbing with uplift accented by hand fastening.

At right of the column, a feminine version of the shirtwaist frock is achieved in the yellow, brown and white plaid sheer muslin frock, with jabot finish making the bosom closing, and double ruffle sleeves.

You and Your Child WASHING HANDS SHOULD BECOME FUN FOR CHILD

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

BOBBY asked for a piece of bread and butter which his mother handed to him absent-mindedly. The youngster sat down, balancing himself on the edge of the chair, as though he could not afford to take the time to make himself more comfortable. He was just about to bite into the bread and butter for the second time when his mother saw that his hands were dirty.

"Put down the bread and go wash your hands," she ordered. "Imagine eating with hands like that. Do you want to get poisoned?"

Inside the bathroom the boy turned on the hot water, then he reached over and turned on the cold water. When the basin was almost full he shut off the water and dipped in both hands. At this point mother appeared in the doorway saying, "Don't forget to use soap."

And it was a lucky thing that she did, as Bobby had almost forgotten. Bobby stretched for the soap, and in doing this almost knocked over a glass. He twisted the soap between the palms of his hands, remembering to put his hands in the soap dish before dipping them into the water again. This accomplished, he reached for a fresh towel.

Later mother discovered the muddled cake of soap and the blackened towel. She scolded and punished Bobby for being a dirty child. Bobby's carelessness had failed to disclose to her that Bobby may not know how to wash his hands, however.

Handwashing that is attended or followed by bickering or scolding becomes established in the child's mind as an ordeal to be avoided whenever possible. Clean hands are important; and washing them has to be made easy and pleasant for the child to want to repeat the experience voluntarily. Praise him when his hands are clean. See that every child has his own towel, and a soft wash cloth that he can easily squeeze the water out of. Teach him to hang these up to dry. If the washstand is high, stand on a stool for him to get a box or stool for him to stand on. Talk to him about pleasant things while he is learning to wash his hands, and he won't mind being helped or supervised.

Short Cuts

When corks in salt and pepper shakers have a tendency to fall in or out, try using a piece of adhesive tape over the opening. This will be permanent until removed for refilling. Any adhesive tape will do, of course. But if you have the new wet-proof kind, so much the better.

You now can buy coarse granulated sugar in all colors. Candied orange or grapefruit peel may be rolled in it for a festive occasion and for that decorative touch. It is also nice for tea cakes.

Tasty and Nourishing Dishes for Today

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "My little girl has reached that very difficult age of thirteen when she is thin and lanky and considers herself groomed up enough to wear mature hair styles and dresses. I want her to look well, and I would appreciate your suggestions for a coiffure."

It would be wise to take the child to an expert hairdresser for advice. Every head of hair requires individual treatment. If the girl has a natural curl or wave in her hair, then it should be encouraged and that means a fairly long bob. This must be tucked behind her ears and held with clips, and soft bangs might be cut if she wants to look sophisticated, yet sweet.

QUESTION: "Can you give me a good exercise for constipation? I have heard that mild cases can sometimes be corrected in this way."

Take this exercise before you get out of bed in the morning: Spread your legs and arms wide apart and stretch in a twisting movement from one side to the other—especially the middle of you. Then lie flat on your back with the feet together and the arms down at the sides, bend the back so that the body is off the bed and your weight is supported by your head and neck. Stretch as much as you can and repeat ten times. Drink two glasses of water to which the juice of a lemon has been added when you get up.

Low-Calorie Dishes Popular For All-Feminine Parties

By JUDITH WILSON

HAVE you ever postponed entertaining a group of friends or your bridge club because you knew that several of the women were dieting? This is really unnecessary since so many festive low-calorie dishes can be prepared. It is really becoming unfashionable, now that so many women must watch their waistlines to serve the fussy, rich dishes that so many hostesses feel they must place before company.

Simple tasty dishes that are sufficiently low in calories to appeal to the strictest dieter are easy to prepare and unusually attractive.

Artichoke-Salmon Appetizer. Split fresh or canned artichoke hearts and marinate in a sherry French dressing made with lemon juice. Serve with shivers of smoked salmon on crisp lettuce hearts. Or remove the skin from tiny tomatoes, stuff with cottage cheese well seasoned with chopped chives, pimiento and green pepper, cut thoroughly and cut into wedges.

Grilled Lamb. Get four pounds shoulder of lamb and have the bone removed. Cut into two inch cubes. Peel four medium size cucumbers and cut into half-inch thick slices. Steam the cucumber slices until they are partly tender. Arrange on skewers alternately with the squares of lamb, using about four pieces of lamb and three of cucumber to each skewer. Place over a shallow pan and broil for twenty minutes, basting occasionally with a sauce made from tomato juice, Worcestershire sauce and salt. Turn during the broiling so the lamb will brown evenly. This will make about ten servings.

Mixed Venets. Scrape tender young carrots and boil until done in salted water. Drain and dress with two tablespoons sugar and two tablespoons butter. Cut each half-dozen carrots, set over a low flame, turning once, until nicely glazed. Sprinkle with finely chopped mint and serve at once.

Vegetables. Almost any vegetables may be chosen for your luncheon or dinner. The thing to watch out for is rich sauces or too much fat in the cooking. Simply cook spinach or other greens, string beans, celery, Chinese cabbage, asparagus, cucumbers, cauliflower, tomatoes, eggplant, turnips or Brussels sprouts and pass a melted butter parsley butter or lemon butter for a dressing. Avoid rich vegetables such as sweet potatoes and dried beans.

Vegetable Mold. Sprinkle one and one-half teaspoons gelatin on one-half cup cold water. Heat two cups chicken broth and the gelatin and stir until dissolved. Season with one and one-half teaspoons salt and two teaspoons vinegar. Add three-fourths of a cup of water in which at least one egg white is cooked. Add one cup chopped celery and ten stuffed olives, sliced. Line the bottoms of indi-

MODES AND MANNERS

QUESTION: "I was terribly upset recently when an old friend who was spending the week-end with me took it upon herself to correct and reprove my child. As a result, my child dislikes her heartily and refuses to visit her. And I can't say that I blame her. Will you please say something about wedding guests in the Modes and Manners column?"—Mrs. V. I.

ANSWER: The visitor must avoid chastising the children of the house in even the mildest manner. Likewise she must resist the impulse to defend a child who is in trouble. Such matters are family business, and the guest has no voice here. If husband and wife enter a discussion the wise guest will keep silent. Why beg for trouble? The guest is invited to join the family, but only as a guest. The polite guest knows her place.

QUESTION: "Who pays the clergyman?"—H. H.

ANSWER: The bridegroom; generally the best man attends to it for him.

QUESTION: "When friends congratulate a girl on becoming engaged, what is she supposed to say in reply?"—T. E.

ANSWER: She should smile frankly and say "Thank you!" That is all anyone will expect her to do.

MODERN WOMEN

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

As Judges of Men Women Are Not Always So Clever as They Should Be

WOMEN at best are not very good judges of men, so I would take the judgment of a man about a man much quicker than I would that of a girl in her teens.

"Dear Mrs. Martin: I have been going with a boy for nearly a year and he has always seemed to care for me more than he does any other girl. My brother and father object to my dating him. The reason they don't like him is because they think he is too rough for me."

"He has always treated me nice and keeps me in good company. He tells me that he doesn't like me to go with certain girls, because he knows they are not the right kind. Any advice that you may give me will be appreciated very much. He is twenty-three and I am seventeen."

ADMITTING that fathers and brothers are very often prejudiced against any man paying attention to the women of their household, it may be that your brother and father know things about this boy you could never know. I advise you to trust to their judgment. You are too young to know much about men, and even though you may like this young man very much, and find him courteous and mindful of you, I think I would wait a bit before I felt sure enough to go against your family's advice.

You do not necessarily have to stop seeing this man, but do not see him to the exclusion of other likely and likable swains. A girl always makes a mistake when she concentrates on one man, unless she is convinced that he is the one she wants ultimately to marry. It always makes other prospects away when a girl shows a marked preference for one. Be friendly, but not sentimental, with this man, who, I believe, is six years older than you. Note that I consider that too great a difference in age, but it does indicate that the young man may be serious, while perhaps this is the last thing you want him to be.

His interest in you seems to be genuine, since he is particularly about your associates, and I think your father and brother might credit him with this very pleasing trait.

Judging from the way you have chosen to sign your letter I gather that you have few friends. Try to make friends with other boys and girls of your own age. It really is very easy to over-estimate one's interest in a lone man. Get to know others, then, if you still like this one best, you are the one to be suited, not your father and brother, although I by no means want you to turn a deaf ear to what they have to say about this, or any other men, you may know.

You must certainly realize that they are trying to protect you, not only from undesirable men, but from yourself. A lonely and romantic young girl is often her own worst enemy. Getting off on the wrong foot is a great handicap in the race. And it is so pitifully easy to do.

Be glad of the protection a father and brother afford. They may go about their job of protecting you in the wrong way. I fancy they have Opposition is the worst possible course they can take, but don't let this opposition spur you on to "show them" or to be over-zealous in your loyalty to them as they oppose. Trust to him to prove your young man's worth and your affection.

Dull Finish Favored

According to the Cornell Bulletin for homemakers, copper, brass and pewter with the dull soft finish that comes as the result of age, is more beautiful than when highly polished. Where a coating of lacquer has been used to insure a bright finish on such articles, it may be removed with alcohol. Either dip the utensil in alcohol or rub it with a soft cloth that has been saturated with alcohol.

DAVE LAMSON TRIAL NEARS FINAL WEEKS

SAN JOSE, April 13.—UP—David Lamson dapper young Stanford Press official, tonight steeled himself for the final two weeks of his second trial for the alleged murder of his wife, Mrs. Lamson, found dead in the Palo Alto bungalow on Memorial Day, 1933.

The defense, which caused a shudder of feeling in the Lamson household to be erected in the superior court room last week, planned to recall Lamson to the witness stand Monday. By redemptive examination defense attorneys hoped Lamson could convince the jury that he did not kill his wife because of marital differences.

The "bathroom" episode was the outstanding feature of the ninth week of the bitter trial. The defense, contending that Mrs. Lamson fell in her bathtub and suffered fatal injuries, used Dr. E. O. Heinrich, noted criminologist, and attractive young woman, Mrs. Christine Phelps, as models in the demonstration.

Mrs. Phelps fell three times in the tub, with Dr. Heinrich's aid, to show how she could have fallen. Twice she fell for the jury, and a third time for photographs. On the third fall, she hummed her face on the side of the tub and suffered a slight cut.

Opinion as to the benefit of the tub exhibition differed. The defense contended it proved Mrs. Lamson fell half out of the tub after striking her head on a bathroom fixture. The state, however, still maintained Mrs. Lamson was not killed accidentally—that her husband struck her on the head with an iron pipe.

The jury members watched the demonstration quietly, no member showing any reaction. The state, believing the defense missed fire in the tub falling evidence, announced that similar experiments may be made in support of the prosecution theory that Mrs. Lamson could not have killed herself by falling.

Committee Reads About Sterilization

MARTINEZ, April 13.—The grand jury social service committee session yesterday was occupied solely in the reading of the report of Deputy District Attorney Rex Boyer on his investigation of the misnamed sterilization scandal.

No action was taken by the committee and it is understood no recommendation of any kind will be made to the full membership of the grand jury.

A meeting of the salary and legislative committee is to be held here Monday evening.

Flood Control Need Shown

THE NEED of additional flood control was graphically illustrated by the recent floods. This picture, showing the city of Marysville resembling an island, was sent to Washington by Central Valley Water Project authorities showing the need of additional flood-control work in the valley in connection with attempts to obtain a Federal loan for the $170,000,000 project.

Evidence Search

AFTER RICHARD PARKER, hired man for Dr. Harry A. Zimmerly of Lancaster, Pa., told police he saw his 37-year-old employer cut up the body of Mrs. Gladys Lawson of Calvert, Mo., investigators sifted ashes in Dr. Zimmerly's driveway in the search for bones.

Actress Loses Suit For Crash Damages

SACRAMENTO, April 13.—Damages were denied Lucille La Verne, 54-year-old Hollywood actress, by a Superior Court jury today following trial of her $180,150 personal injury suit against William Dold, manager of a local produce company, and Herman Rose, a truck driver.

The actress sought the damages for injuries she suffered in May, 1933, when the automobile in which she was riding collided with a truck driven by Rose and owned by Dold.

DR. ELMO ZIMMELT, well-known Tulare physician and former Richmond man, is reported seriously ill at Tulare.

"Such action is unwise and will prove unprofitable," the articles said.

PROTESTS MADE
Publications of the stories followed similar protests against growing opposition to Japanese cotton products in the United States, which have been blamed jointly with the federal processing tax for a crisis in the vast New England textile industry.

Hiroshi Satoh, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, protested vigorously against growing anti-Japanese sentiment in a recent address in New England and manufacturers and trade organizations of Osaka, Japan's principal industrial center, called plans for improved relations in messages to New York importers of Japanese cotton and the New York Cotton Exchange.

Vice Inquiry In Pittsburg Is Demanded

had paid $500 for "protection." She had operated a Pittsburg lodging house and was recently freed after arrest in a police raid.

In substantiating the 28-page report of the detectives to Mayor Meyer Donovan informed the district attorney that the city had expended more than $800 in the inquiry.

His letter of transmission to the district attorney says: "Mr. Francis P. Healey, 'District Attorney,'

"Dear Sir: I hand you herewith reports of A. J. Kane, detective agency conducting investigation from March 26, 1935 to April 11, 1935 in the city of Pittsburg from which reports it appears that the laws of the state of California are being violated in the city of Pittsburg."

"These reports are delivered to you for such action as you feel is proper. The witnesses who made the investigation are available through the A. J. Kane Detective Agency, San Francisco."

"B. H. DONOVAN,"
"Mayor of Pittsburg."

"If laws are being violated in Pittsburg we must take care of the situation," Healey said.

He said he had conferred with Sheriff John A. Miller and that Miller had pledged his cooperation. He declared that if the charges in the report merit prosecution he will seek to have one of the operatives swear to a complaint or will present the matter to the grand jury if complaints are not stated.

Dairy Survey Made By City

Members of the Richmond City Council, accompanied by City Manager J. A. McVittie, Health Inspector Dr. C. R. Blake and City Veterinarian Rex Louck yesterday made a tour of inspection of three local dairies in connection with a request made to the council to change the dairy ordinance here.

The establishments visited were in South Richmond, Steze and the Richmond Annex.

The council is expected to take some action on the matter on Monday night when a report on the tour will be made.

Under the present ordinance, housing of more than two cows is prohibited. A petition has been filed with the council asking that the city law be changed to allow any number of cows in certain sections of the city.

City Councilmen making the tour were Mayor George Imbach, Dr. A. B. Hinkley, W. W. Scott, Walter Johnson, Frank Tiller and Mrs. Mattie Chandler.

MOVE MADE BY NATIONS TO END WAR

must be prevented and they will use every means to do so.

When the conference ended for the day, to be resumed in the morning, the following facts emerged:

ANOTHER CONFERENCE

1. It was decided to call a conference in Rome on May 20 of the Danubian countries, which comprise all of Central Europe down into the Balkans, to sign a pact of non-aggression.

2. Austria's independence will be guaranteed.

3. The powers will frame their program so that no direct action will be taken against Germany for scrapping the Versailles treaty. Instead, an effort will be made to get Germany back into the family of nations, accepting her rearmament, wipe the slate clean and start a new deal with every nation binding itself to observe treaties and obligations.

NEW DEAL

4. Non-aggression instead of mutual assistance, will be the keynote—that is, instead of entering into military pacts to defend one another, the powers will bind themselves not to attack any other nation. A general pact of non-aggression will be drafted for submission to Germany.

C. C. Will Study Merger Proposal

Proposed county consolidation is the announced subject of the next meeting of Contra Costa Association, which is to be held at the Memorial Hall in Martinez on Tuesday evening, April 30th, at eight o'clock. Such is the announcement of Ralph H. Wight of Martinez, president.

The organization has adopted the policy of having consideration by its members of timely public subjects in the form of a debate. This meeting will be open to the public.

The speakers for the respective sides will be announced as soon as definite arrangements have been made for the proper presentation of both sides of the question.

The various plans for county consolidation which are being proposed before the present legislature, and otherwise, will be explained and discussed. One plan, which is receiving serious consideration of the legislature and is to be voted upon as a constitutional amendment at an early election, provides for the consolidation of the fifty-eight counties of California into fifteen counties. Under the proposal Contra Costa would be linked with Alameda and Solano as one of the fifteen counties.

Pickets' Machine Given Sweetening

Someone has a perverted sense of humor. If you don't believe it, ask the group of pickets who are residing at a West Side hotel during the present oil tanker strike.

It seems that the pickets purchased two cars to be used in transporting the men to the picket lines. These cars were parked in front of their hotel. On Friday night an unknown with a perverted sense of humor walked up to the automobiles, lifted off the gasoline tank caps and filled the fuel containers with sugar. As a result, the pickets' jeolopies refused to run any more.

Hot Show Is Raided Here By Deputies

A woman who was in charge of the show escaped from the officers and took with her several reels of motion pictures which would never pass any censor's office any place at any time.

The name of the person who "bocked" the show and the name of the woman who was in charge are known by police and the arrest of the pair is expected at any minute.

ARE QUESTIONED

When the three girls were taken to the sheriff's office at Martinez they readily told their stories to the investigators. According to the trio they had been hired to stage a dancing act at the hotel. It was the first appearance for one of the girls who is only 20 years old. They told officers that they did not realize what kind of a show it was until they found themselves being questioned.

When Davies informed the crowd that he was going to take the girls away the 500 gave vent to verbal protests which were enforced with empty bottles. Davies, however, brought the girls through the crowd and took them to Martinez for questioning.

The district attorney's office "tipped off" the sheriff's office that the show was about to be held.

Mother Of Local Man Is Rescued

F. R. Dean of 416 Twenty-sixth street, returned home from Reno yesterday after aiding in a three-day search for his mother Mrs. Lillie Merrill, 58, Reno apartment house owner, who was rescued Thursday night after being marooned for four days on the desert with Phillip Gibson, railroad company tax expert.

The couple were stranded Sunday afternoon in the center of a lonely stretch of wastelands in Nevada when their gasoline supply became exhausted.

Gilson set out on foot after a storm had cleared and after a 20-mile walk reached a mine when word was broadcast of their plight.

When Dean learned that his mother was missing he chartered a plane at the Oakland airport and flew to Nevada to aid in the search.

He reported yesterday that his mother was none the worse for her experience.
